DISCLAIMERS

Parents/Guardians are responsible for determining if any of the books are appropriate for their children, ie: content and language. We recommend that parents read the books first. JSA Dental is not responsible for children's reactions to the material. The books are intended only to help and be somewhat of a guide for children and parents. The books are optional reading material!*

Please note: Some children may still need to be referred to a Pedodontic specialist office.*

JSA Dental truly hopes that these books will help alleviate some of the mystery surrounded by dental work for children and result in a better dental experience for your family. Please let us know if you have any questions.

One of our patients suggested that parents may want to go online and look for "sounds at the dentist office". Having your child listen to the unique sounds in a dental office can also be helpful.

We hope you enjoy the books and look forward to seeing you and your child soon!
